5. New business

John Goodall presented that the Conservancy has funding to do a study of how well Honey Brook Township is doing in terms of Best Management Practice execution. The study would be looking at ~166 farms, starting in November. The end result would be a comprehensive understanding of water quality in the Township. This will also be an outreach opportunity.

John will also bring properties that have not been eligible for programs in our scope to the attention of the Natural Lands Trust to see if there are other angles that could be used for preservation.
